NEW YORK SCENE OF ANGRY SOCIALIST MASSMEETING TO REPROACH POLICE FOR RIOT

WOMAN'S ARREST MAKES MOB ANGRY

POLICE RESERVES THROUGH THE HALL AND MENACE CROWD

NO OVERFLOW MEETINGS GO

Officials Warn Speakers That Other
Gatherings Cannot Be Permitted—More Reserves Out

NEW YORK, April 4.—The allied socialist parties are holding a meeting to protest against the action of the police in Saturday's meeting of the unemployed. Forty policemen in plain clothes are scattered through the hall with orders to arrest any one making an incendiary speech.

The meeting was at Grand Central Police, and there Robert Hunter, Morris Hilquit and other socialist orators held forth.

The police detail to the building was made up of 240 men. The inspector, three captains and more than a dozen lieutenants are commanding. As soon as the seats were all filled, the doors were locked. Algernon Lee presided. The first few speeches were of mild type, but the undertone was that the police were absolutely responsible for Saturday's troubles.

First Arrest Made
Mrs. Elizabeth Sands and her son, Max, endeavored to force their way through the crowds at the entrance to the hall to get favorable seats, but were ordered back, and not responding quickly enough, they were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct and resisting officers, and were not allowed to give bail at once.

This put the crowd in an ugly mood, and more police reserves were sent for.

It was announced also to the crowd that no overflow meetings would be permitted. The chief told his men to "keep them moving."

SOPHIA MCARTHUR
DIES SUDDENLY
Mrs. Christina McArthur, 316 North Seventh street, received a telegram this morning from Genoa Junction stating that her daughter, Miss Sophia McArthur, was found dead in bed this morning.

No further particulars have been received by Mrs. McArthur but it is believed death was caused by heart trouble. Deceased at the time of her death was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Sebastian Shulz. She is survived by her mother, two brothers and four sisters.

The body will be brought to La Crosse for interment beside her father, the late W. McArthur.

BOY EXPLODES BOMB
FOUND IN N. Y. CELLAR
NEW YORK, April 4.—The police reserves were called out at noon today following the explosion of a small bomb, the exact nature of which is not known. It tore the right hand off Frederick Schewac, 11, and slightly injured three other children who were playing in a hallway of a building in Avenue B. Schewac says he found the bomb whether it was one of a number in a box in a cellar at 170 Third street, and was taking it home to show to his father. He stumbled and struck it against the wall, when it exploded. The police are endeavoring to find the other bombs the lad said he found.

WET AND DRY GOODS TO BE AFFILIATED
It has just leaked out that Mr. Lambert J. Kaiser, one of the bookkeepers at the John Gund Brewing company, has secured a license. It may be that a hunting license was secured, but surrounding evidence points to a marriage license. The lucky one is understood to be Miss Bertha Martin, a popular and well known clerk at the Barron Dry Goods store. The event is to take place shortly after Easter.

ONALASKA HAS RAISED $900

WEST SALEM AND LA CROSSE

Both Are After it, With the Chances
Seeming in Favor of the Former City

A rousing session was held today at the county supervisors' chamber in the county court house by the committee of supervisors and supporters of the agricultural school, from West Salem, Onalaska and Bangor.

Onalaska had the largest representation at the meeting, but West Salem will swarm down this afternoon. One fact which was developed this morning was that Onalaska has the largest and almost the only large canning factory in the state and it was cited that the agricultural school would therefore be of advantage.

The various supervisors who were present were: Messrs. Baker, Turnbull, Kindley, McHugh, and Clemens. On account of the fact that Supervisors Hatz, Christopherson and Gullickson were not present the

MOB PESTERS FOR VANDERBILT GOLD

BUDAPEST, April 4.—Frightened by a mob of fortune seekers, Count and Countess Szechenyi have applied to the police for protection. Crowds have constantly followed them since their arrival. They besiege the hotel, they storm the carriage whenever a drive is taken in the streets. The people have an idea the American girl's fortune practically has no limit, and begging letters have nearly swamped the hotel. Detectives have been employed to keep the crowd from the hotel.

PEOPLE TRIUMPHED OVER THE BOSES IN "DES MOINES "COMMISSION" ELECTION

MEN BACK OF THE MODEL CIVIC GOVERNMENT AT DES MOINES, IA.
Reading from left to right the men are Wesley Ash, John MacVicar and Charles Schramm.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 4.—Rejecting advice of "rings" and "cliques" the people of Des Moines who adopted the commission form of government last spring to rid the community of the curse of politics, defeated every politician up for office and put the reins of government in the hands of the common people. The new officers elected are: Mayor—Judge A. J. Mathis, former police judge and poor man. Councilmen—John MacVicar, popular because of previous fights against corporations. Wesley Ash, coal miner. J. L. Hamery, carpenter. Charles Schramm, former city assessor and poor man. Wealth counted for nothing in the campaign. Rich and influential business men who sought the positions were turned down. With a big committee with unknown means spending money advancing their cause business men of the "slate" were completely vanquished. The Des Moines plan was heralded as a relief from caucus methods and every movement which had the semblance of a "slate" was crushed. The city corporation turned over to these five men for conducting the next two years is valued at $8,634,850.

They are unhampered in their administration. Under the law they select all their administrative officers, such as attorneys, treasurer, auditor, engineer, police judges, chief of police and detectives, etc.

It is expected the city government will be divided and each councilman assigned a distinct department over which he will have absolute control and assume responsibility. He will be blamed for what goes wrong there and if he fails of his duty the "recall" section of the "Des Moines plan" law will permit his constituents to dethrone him.

Wards and politics were abolished by the law. All the men were elected at large.

The election brought out the biggest municipal vote Des Moines has ever had. People have become interested in the management of the city. They have placed it in the hands of the people inasmuch as the "Des Moines plan" has attracted national attention the result of its administration will be watched during the next two years with keenest interest.

The new commissioners enter the administration of affairs burdened with a debt of over $100,000 and a bond issue of $300,000 for a new city hall, the construction of which will become one of their duties.

There and if he fails of his duty the "recall" section of the "Des Moines plan" law will permit his constituents to dethrone him.

STORY CUTS BOTH WAYS

If His Senatorial Vote Against La
Crosse Normal Is Boost There
It's a Knock Here

"If this is good Bashford literature in Superior, it should be good anti-Bashford stuff in La Crosse," said a leading lawyer today, handing over the desk a clipping from the Superior Telegram containing an article written by Thomas F. Solon urging that Superior elect Bashford because he was instrumental in the defeat of the proposed La Crosse normal school when he was a state senator in 1895.

All Peaceful Now
As a matter of fact there is no quarrel now between Superior and La Crosse over normal matters now. The two cities vied for the 1895 normal appropriation, and Superior won. Last year, however, Superior backed the proposal for the normal to be erected in La Crosse this year, and that made everything lovely.

But it Cuts Two Ways
But the gentlemen who are as interested in the judicial election as they are in the normal say, never-

SERUM TO CURE PNEUMONIA SURE

ANTWERP, April 4.—Dr. Leonard Bertrand announced the discovery of a serum said to be as effective in the treatment of pneumonia as anti-toxin is in diphtheria. Proofs of cures in a dozen severe cases, together with the secret of making the serum, will be laid before the Antwerp Medical society.

EVANS CAN "ROAST" CONGRESS AT WILL

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Evans runs no more danger of being court-martialed for what he said about congress yesterday than he does of being handed a commission as vice admiral by the "bunch of politicians." He is perfectly safe in roasting the lawmaking body. The naval regulations permit officers to talk as much as they please so long as they do not criticize superiors in the service. Congress can have nothing to say about what Evans says of it. There is a combination in congress to prevent official recognition of the recent service of Evans to the people, and the commission is likely to be withheld.

MR. TAFT AVOIDED POLITICS, MOSTLY

CHICAGO, April 4.—Taft slept in Chicago last night under the same police guard that is given the president when he visits the city. Previously to going to his room he made two speeches under the protection of what the police department calls the presidential squad of six detectives. He was brought into the city under police guard in a mysterious fashion, and foot and mounted officers lined his route from the La Salle street station to the Annex hotel.

Mr. Taft's two speeches might have been considered those of an heir apparent also—an heir apparent who is sure of his place. They were safe, sane and conservative. The first was at the banquet of the Baptist interdenominational union, and dealt with the religious problems in the Philippines.

NO OLIVE BRANCH IN OHIO WARFARE

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Both Taft and Foraker strenuously deny the reports that they have been flirting with each other. On behalf of Taft it is stated today that no overtures have been made to Foraker to call off the fight in Ohio. The Foraker leaders say no olive branch has been extended to Taft.

STANDS BETWEEN LOVE AND DUTY

SENATOR MAKES NO POSITIVE
STATEMENT—DOES NOT DENY

LEADERS FORCE HIS HAND

Danger Threatening From Tall Timber Leads to Conclusion that
"Tom" Must Run Again

It may be said to be a positive fact that Senator Thomas Morris will consent to accept a renomination at the hands of the republicans of his district.

It is equally certain that the party leaders will insist on his taking it. "I stand between love and duty. I'd love to go back, if the boys want me, and on the other hand my legal business needs me."

That was Senator Morris' answer to a direct question as to his accepting a renomination.

"That is artistically non-committal, senator," said the reporter, "but it doesn't answer the question. Are you going back to the senate?"

"What do you think?" laughed the senator.

"I think you are going back," said the reporter.

"Well," suggested Mr. Morris, "I haven't been nominated or elected as yet."

It had been understood that Mr. Morris would not accept another term. He had repeatedly said he wanted to retire, and the demands of his law business were sufficient explanation for his attitude. Party leaders admitted that he had made his share of sacrifice, and that he had done his work well, but of late new conditions have arisen, and it has been known that a new situation has forced the party managers to reconsider and to insist that for the best interests of the community Mr. Morris must accept another term.

When seen about the matter today Senator Morris was unable to deny and not inclined to admit the facts, but from other sources it was learned that he will do what the party demands, and the party will demand that he submit his candidacy for another term.

An informant whose name is a bond for the accuracy of his statements regarding the inside affairs of the party here says that an understanding has been reached, and Mr. Morris will return to the senate.

It is understood things up in the big woods around Arcadia way are at least in part responsible for the conclusion that "Tom" just must carry the banner again.

MEETING ON NEXT MONDAY

High School Athletes Believe They Can Capture State Championship With the Proper Training

There have been some objections raised to the employing of a paid coach for the coming football season at the high school. Superintendent of Schools Bird when asked about the matter said:

"The matter of a paid coach is a divided one and rests entirely with the management. As for myself I have no objections to the employing of a professional coach."

The subject will probably be brought up before the board of education at the next meeting which occurs on next Monday evening. When it is considered that the La Crosse high school could have won the state championship if the players had had the services of a professional coach it appears to the boys there could be no reasonable objections raised to the employing of such a man if La Crosse expects to win any honors on the football field. Said a student today:

"There is more good heavy material for a team this year than there has ever been before and if a professional coach is secured to pick and train the team the athletic success of the local high school for the coming football season is assured."

Captain Tourtellotte says: "With the football material which we have on hand and the services of a competent coach we could walk over anything in the state."

That seems to be the sentiment throughout the high school. Prof. Benetz, principal of the high school, is heartily in favor of having a coach and will do his best towards bringing one here.

Heart Breaking Struggle in Chicago for World's Championship Goes By Default to American

CHICAGO, April 4.—After two hours heart-breaking struggle George Hackenschmidt last night gave up in despair and relinquished the world's wrestling championship to Frank Gotch, the American champion catch-as-catch-can wrestler of Iowa.

Eight thousand ports from all parts of the country were amazed when Hackenschmidt said to Gotch: "I give you the match."

There was no dissatisfaction, however, for Gotch was clearly more than a match for the Russian.

After the match the police had to prevent the crowd swarming about the victor, to shower their enthusiastic congratulations.

For an hour and forty-five minutes he eluded every attempt of the Russian Lion to fasten his grip on him. Gotch side-stepped, roughed his man's features with his knuckles, butted him under the chin and generally worried Hack until the foreigner was totally at a loss how to proceed.

But when, in the clinch that finally came, Gotch slammed his opponent to the mat and came within an ace of securing a firm toe hold, following this up by lifting Hack clear off the mat and slamming him on his shoulders with terrific force, the European exponent was heart-broken. The lines slowly deepened on his face, the hoots and gibes of the crowd hurt his feelings and, after considering the matter for a few seconds, he decided it was time to quit.

Few spectators but were willing to give Gotch the palm. The Iowa farmer was in better condition, quicker and trickier and showed far better knowledge of the game.

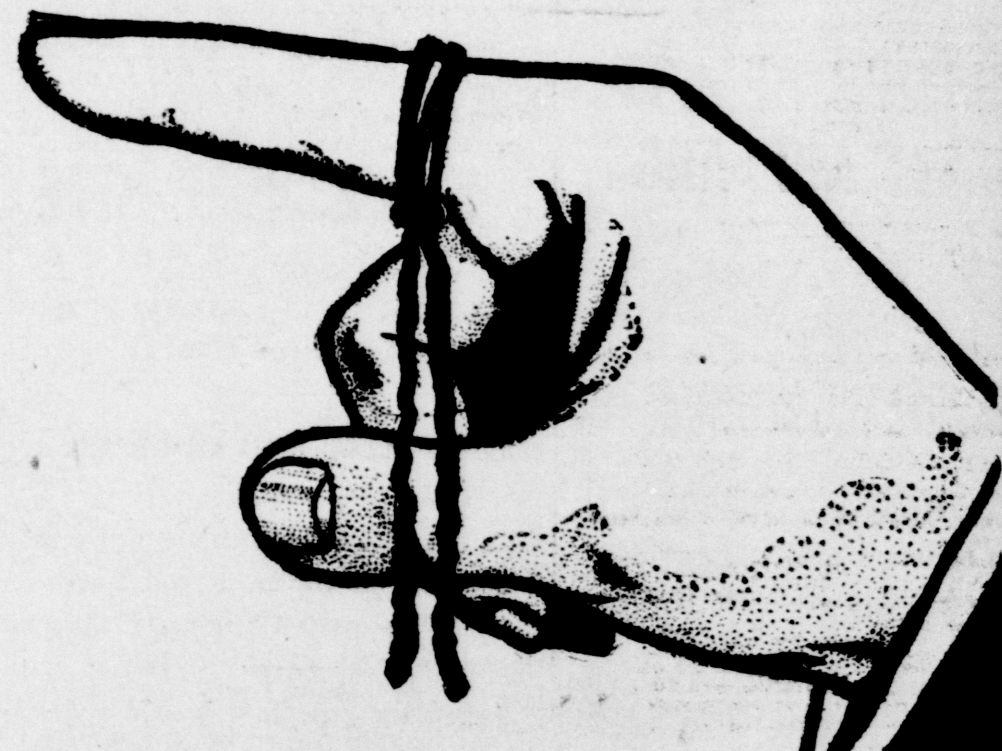

Hack, when asked by his trainer after the match, shook his head and

You will see with your own eyes the unbelievable richness of this newly opened country. The development of Texas has just begun. Its broad, fertile, well watered plains were held by the cattle men for many years. They are now open to homeseekers. The Gulf Coast of Texas is producing today and has produced for years the same fine tropical and semi-tropical products that are produced in the best parts of California. Don't miss this opportunity to get a slice of this fertile land which will be sure to double in value in a very short time and be the starting point of your independence. Come lets talk it over.

NEW SCHEME OF WAGERING IN EAST

ALBANY, N. Y., April 4.—With the passage of the Hart bill through the senate by the vote of 27 to 19, opponents of racing declare that it means the death knell of the sport in the east. The track managers, on the contrary, insist that, at the worst, it means but the adoption of the "English" style of betting.

This method, followed at all English courses in the select inclosures, consists of "betting on the nod," that is, not putting up any money, but settling the following Monday. On account of this fact the Monday after the Derby is always known as "Black Monday."

In the minor inclosures in England the betting system is much the same as that which has prevailed here for so long. The Hart bill, especially aimed at this system, may make this impossible, however, and it will be necessary to devise some new method if the sport is to continue. It is suggested that would-be bettors might deposit their money before going to the track thus obviating the necessity of exchanging money at the course.

WILL REPAIR BALL PARK NEXT WEEK

Carl Bond, third base for the La Crosse team last year, signed up yesterday afternoon and will try out for his old position this year. With the signing of "Bondy" all the old players are back with the exception of Killian.

All players have received instructions to report for practice by the 15th of April and the try-outs will start then.

The committee of the local association on grounds will make a visit to the ball park next week and make arrangements for needed repairs. If the weather permits the work will be started about the middle of next week. In all probability new wire screen will be placed around the grand stand and additions will be made to the bleachers. Last year numerous complaints were received on the condition of the right field, this portion of the grounds being cut up. In all probability it will be filled in with clay or something to make it more firm.

Pitcher Smith of Tomah, for whom the La Crosse association has been negotiating for some time, has signed with Sheboygan and will play in the Lake Shore League. Pitcher Fogarty, another man wanted by La Crosse, has signed with Seattle and will try his arm in the west.

SPORT BRIEFS.

After going for three days without a game, having been confined in the rainy territory, the Chicago White Sox Thursday plodded into a snow storm, cancelling another of their series.

Riot! Seven innings, with a tie, 5 and 5, Steinfield ousted from the game and the umpire going through an alley enroute to his quarters is in short, the tale of the Cubs' contest at Birmingham Thursday.

The rest caused by rain certainly helped the White Sox seconds as they were able to defeat the Sioux City aggregation Thursday 11 to 0.

Cleveland, in Thursday's game, took the New Orleans team into town with the score of 7 to 0.

The Hillsboro White Sox were defeated in their first contest at the Portage tournament against the fast Portage team. The final score stood 24 to 15.

The French car in the New York-Paris automobiles race was reported stuck in a desert near Los Angeles Thursday.

Coach Stags of the university of Chicago has started spring football training and among the assistants on the field is one Iddings, who is a candidate for coach of the La Crosse high school team next fall.

The Wausau baseball players reported for their spring practice at Burlington, Ia., yesterday and started in for practice for their first contest tomorrow.

Mrs. Hannah Maney of Seneca is the guest of La Crosse friends in the city for a few days.

Dangers of Defective Plumbing

Defective plumbing permits the entrance into the house of sewer gas bearing germs of contagious diseases to which the human system readily succumbs.

Is Your Plumbing System Defective?

Sewer gas is not necessarily generated in the sewer, but is frequently created in the plumbing system within the house and enters the apartments through defective fixtures.

The most dangerous sewer gases are often inodorous and therefore not discovered until ill-health renders necessary an examination of conditions, but often too late to repair the damage done.

If you are in doubt, consult us regarding the piping, also the replacing of defective fixtures with "Standard" Porcelain Enamelled Ware, which is acknowledged the best sanitary equipment in the world.

A DANGER TO AVOID.

The warning that has gone out to the effect that there exists a conspiracy between anti-La Follette republicans and democrats of a certain class may be exaggerated. On the other hand, it may not. There is at least no doubt that all ingenuity of the railroad brand can do to defeat and humiliate Senator La Follette will be done, and the warning will have served a useful purpose if it arouses reform republicans to the danger that lingers in a cock-sure attitude toward the coming primaries.

The Tribune is publishing the official ballot, with the La Follette delegates marked by a cross, as they must be marked by those who vote for them. The order is alphabetical, and the candidates are therefore so mixed that unless one knows the names of the individuals, one is apt to err in voting. We advise La Follette men to promulgate the idea that voters should early clip the ticket from The Tribune, and so acquaint themselves with the candidates and what they stand for as to preclude the possibility of error.

In the meantime, there should be exerted a constant effort to arouse all voters to the peril of being too certain, in order that the most complete support of the La Follette delegates may be had at the polls on primary day.

IT IS WORTH WHILE.

The introduction of filibustering in the house of representatives by the democrats is complained of as tending to "block legislation." This is one of the brightest bits of humor that has come from the republican house leaders for a long time, the ability of the thrust being accentuated by the fact that in the very process of their filibustering the democrats have forced the republicans to vote down at least two important measures especially urged by the president in his most recent message.

The filibustering is a good thing. The congress, in defiance of the president's urging and the public demand, has doggedly pursued a policy of evading every live bill and issue to come before it, barring those wanted by what Mr. Roosevelt calls the "predatory rich." They have done nothing, and expected to keep on doing it, so the filibuster merely gives them an excuse for doing as much—which is nothing—as they had been doing and wished to do.

The affirmative value of the filibuster is to show the people of the United States how they are being represented in congress. The president has earnestly asked for important legislation. Heretofore it has been possible for the house to assume the passive attitude of mere inaction. The filibuster has forced them to assume the negative attitude. The hands are shown down, and it is worth while.

THE FINAL ADJUSTMENT

The elimination of Mr. C. H. Williams, formerly manager of the Wisconsin Light & Power company, from the management of the La Crosse Gas & Electric company, marks the triumphant finish of a long fought controversy of which that conclusion was the ultimate purpose, and completes the program of restricting the influence of the gentlemen who were the original stockholders of the Wisconsin company to the pleasurable employment of clipping coupons on the bonds which now represent their sole interest in the magnificent enterprise which they so courageously started less than three years ago.

The removal of Mr. Williams leaves the management of the company in the hands of Mr. P. M. Gelatt, a gentleman who needs no introduction to the La Crosse public. It has been the wish of the company to retain him, no doubt, for the performance of services for which he has demonstrated his aptitude, and the company must shoulder the blame or may pocket the gain as the case may be.

We have no purpose to adversely criticize the company's selection of a manager. When the two companies came together it was admitted by the officers of the surviving institution that Mr. Gelatt, by reason of certain transactions now ancient history, and conditions growing out of these transactions, lacked the confidence of a large portion of the public, and the idea was permitted to transpire that his services would be dispensed with at the earliest possible moment. Whether the suggestion lacked sincerity, or whether the company has since found that certain of Mr. Gelatt's talents are indispensable in the prosecution of its present business policy, one cannot say. Be it sufficient to observe that the purpose of the company to depose Mr. Williams and substitute Mr. Gelatt as manager has been long patent. His career as identified with the Central Electric company of Louisville, Ky., the Central Electric company of La Crosse and finally the La Crosse Gas & Electric company has been rich in experiences which have doubtless equipped him better for the work he is to perform than could a mere electrical engineering college such as the one which graduated Mr. Williams, and that being the judgment of the officials of the company in whose behalf he is to exert his remarkable talents, there seems little left for the public to say. However, inspired by the sacred memory of the late lamented Central Electric company and the enthusiasm with which the public expressed its attitude toward Manager Gelatt because of his transactions in that relation, we have no hesitancy in predicting that the suave and keen manager will prove an expensive luxury, whose elevation shall render indelible the distrustful impression to which his prolonged retention has subjected the corporation.

Paterson, N. J., is trying to rid itself of the anarchists it has fostered so long. The city is doing the right thing rather late in the day, and it will pardon the public if little sympathy is felt for it in its present embarrassment.

Congressman Lilley seems to be a live wire, and the Electric Boat company scandal promises to yet give the country a shock.

Now will some of the people who have groaned about the "inefficiency" of the United States navy please shed a few tears over the deplorable "inefficiency" that sent an English war vessel to the bottom!

5954 Gimpes with Frilled or Puff Sleeves, 32 to 42 bust.

In this day of over waists and of similar effects the gimpes makes an all important feature of the wardrobe. Here is one, that while it gives an exceedingly dressy effect, calls for the smallest possible quantity of all-over lace or other materials of a similar sort and which allows a choice of plain or frilled sleeves, in elbow or full length. In the illustration it is made of lawn with the yoke of all over lace and the sleeves of lace edging to match, but tuckings or lace edging, joined one strip to another, or, indeed, any pretty material that may be liked can be used for the yoke with the sleeves of frills as illustrated or of the material lace edged, or made plain with cuffs. For the foundation, lawn and silk both are correct.

The gimpes is made with front and backs. It is faced to form a yoke, which can be made on either round or square outline, and is finished at the lower edge with a basque portion which does away with fullness over the hips. When frilled sleeves are used the frills are arranged over puffed foundations, and are finished with bands at their lower edges. The long sleeves, however, are made over fitted linings, which are faced to form the cuffs.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 3 yards 21 or 24, 2 1/2 yards 32 or 1 1/2 yards 44 inches wide, with 5/8 yard of all-over lace, 4 3/4 yards of lace 5 inches for the sleeves.

The pattern 5954 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inch bust measure and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

Always Unfortunate

Here I stand within the hall;
For the elevator bawl
"Going up?" I loudly cry.
And the urchin makes reply:
"Going down."

Here you see me buying stocks,
Hoping to acquire both rocks
And renown.
"Going up," I loudly say;
Buy my broker answers: "Nay;
Going down."

When old Charon I shall meet,
Looking mystical, but neat,
In his gown—
"Going up?" I'll murmur low,
And he'll doubtless answer: "No;
Going down."

FORUM

FOR WEST SALEM SITE.

Editor Tribune:

The citizens of West Salem are continuing their efforts to locate the Agricultural school on the county fair grounds. A delegation from there visited a great many of the business men of La Crosse yesterday and found sentiment in general very favorable towards them. West Salem has many advantages over Onalaska as a site and the city of La Crosse would hardly be the place for a strictly agricultural school. There is more butter made within a radius of nine miles from West Salem than in any like territory in the state of Wisconsin. There is probably twice as much stock and butter shipped from that center as from the entire balance of the county. Nearly if not quite one-half of the people in La Crosse live within a radius of seven miles from West Salem according to the census of 1905. The importance of this fact can not be over-estimated as it will allow a great portion of the boys and girls who will attend this school to either walk or drive from their homes to school and return every day, thus saving the entire expense of board and room. The school may live further away will have the excellent railroad facilities at this point and train service on the C. & N. W. and C. M. & St. P. roads is of a high grade. The soil here is of the best, and some of the most progressive farmers in the state live but a short distance from the proposed site on the fair grounds, thus affording opportunity for studying actual conditions at their best.

To West Salem must go the credit of securing the school for La Crosse county in the first place, so it would seem that with the splendid site offered by the La Crosse County Agricultural society and the citizens of West Salem and Hamilton, valued at a conservative estimate at $2,500.00, there should be no question as to where the school should be located.

The fact that the school located in West Salem will leave only one fair for La Crosse county ought to go a long way toward making the Interstate fair a success and will certainly increase the interest in that event.

Where should the county agricultural school for young men and young women be located?

Where will it be of most use to the taxpayers and their families?

What class will patronize the institution?

Taking the last question first; the business men of the city today and their wives were largely from the farm, hence it is only natural that they should wish their sons and daughters to have some practical education in the line of agriculture and domestic science.

The agricultural training school offers the needed opportunity. With three-fourths of the youth of the county living in the cities of La Crosse and Onalaska a logical conclusion would force one to answer that all classes will attend the school, that it should be placed at the most healthful and accessible point in the county.

Taking the last question first; the business men of the city today and their wives were largely from the farm, hence it is only natural that they should wish their sons and daughters to have some practical education in the line of agriculture and domestic science.

The agricultural training school offers the needed opportunity. With three-fourths of the youth of the county living in the cities of La Crosse and Onalaska a logical conclusion would force one to answer that all classes will attend the school, that it should be placed at the most healthful and accessible point in the county.

The city of Onalaska with its beautiful site overlooking the two cities, only two blocks from the street car line and close to the depots of the C. & N. W., the C. B. & Q., and the G. B. & W., and the new projected electric lines into the northern part of the county, offers the most healthful and accessible location, the most beautiful with its natural groves, and the most useful with the variety of soils and presents the only real proposition to be considered from the practical standpoint.

From an equitable consideration, West Salem has the county hospital for the insane, the city of La Crosse has the other county buildings, and is to have the new normal school building about to be erected, leaving the city of Onalaska again in the lead with its claim as justly entitled to the decision of the committee on location and of the county board at its final vote on the question, and it is confidently believed by these best acquainted with all the facts that the decision in Onalaska's favor will be very pronounced.

From a Recent Novel

She dropped her eyes; he threw up his head.
Her face fell; he ground his teeth.
Her cheek burned; his heart sank.
She grew cold as ice; his brain was on fire.
Her heart came up in her throat; his brow grew dark.
Her eyes flashed fire; he tore his hair!
Her very soul was rent; he could have bitten his tongue in two for saying it.
She cast the lie back in his teeth; he swallowed a lump in his throat.
She shuddered as with a mortal wound; he grew weak, as water.

An icy hand clutched at her heart; then he trembled like an aspen.

She grew faint and sick; he was in agony.
Plainly she strove for breath; his eyes blazed.

She swept from the room; he fell in a heap on the rug.
Plainly, after all this, life could never be the same for either of them.

The Escape

"I ain't goin' to count ten no more when I'm angry," said Alkali Ike, scratching his ear with his revolver. "Why not?" Inquired the bartender of Tin Can's leading saloon. THE PAUPER OF PARK LANE

By William Le Queux

"Lyle!" gasped his employer. "Do you mean Leonard Lyle? What do you know of him?"

"I saw him in the company of Adams. It is he who supplies the latter with money."

"Lyle!" cried Statham, his eyes glaring in amazement. "Lyle here—in London?"

"He was here a week ago. You know him?"

"Know him—yes!" answered the old millionaire, hoarsely. "Are you certain that he has become Adams' friend?"

"I saw them together with my own eyes. They were sitting in the Cafe Royal, in Regent Street. Adams was in evening dress, and wore an opera hat. They'd been to the Emmentaler?"

"Why didn't you tell me all this before?" asked Statham, in a tone of blank despair. "I see now all the difficulties that have arisen. The pair have united to wreak their difficulties that have arisen. The pair have united to wreak their vengeance upon me, and I am powerless and unprotected."

"But who is this man Leonard Lyle?" inquired the secretary.

"A man without a conscience. He was a mining engineer, and is now, I suppose—a short, white-moustached man, with a slightly humped back and a squeaky voice."

"The same."

"Why didn't you tell me this before?" If Lyle knows Adams, the position is doubly dangerous," he exclaimed, in abject dismay. "No," he added, bitterly, "there can be no way out."

"I said nothing because you had refused to believe."

"You saw them together after you had told me of Adams' return, or before?"

"After," he replied. "Even though you refused to believe me, I continued to remain watchful in your interests and those of the firm. I spent several evenings in watching their movements."

"Ah! you are loyal to me, I know. Rolfe. You shall not regret this. Hitherto I have not treated you well, but now try and atone for the manner in which I misjudged you. I ask your pardon."

"For what?" inquired Rolfe, in surprise.

"For believing ill of you," was all the old man vouchsafed.

"I tried to do my duty as your secretary," was all he said.

"Your duty. You have done more. You have watched my enemies even though I sneered at your well-meant warning," he said. "But if you watched, you perhaps know where the pair are in hiding."

"Lyle lives at the First Avenue Hotel, in Holborn. Adams lives in a small furnished flat in Addison Mansions, close to Addison Road railway station."

"Lives there in preference to an hotel because he can go in and out shabby and down-at-heel without attracting comment—eh?"

"I suppose so. I had great difficulty in following him to his hiding-place without arousing his suspicions."

"Does he really mean mischief?" asked the principal of Statham Brothers, bending slightly towards his secretary.

"Yes; undoubtedly he does. The pair are here with the intention of bringing ruin upon you and upon the house of Statham," was Rolfe's quiet reply.

"Then only you can save me, Rolfe," cried the old man, starting up wildly.

"How? Tell me, and I am ready to act upon your instructions," Rolfe said.

The millionaire placed his hand upon the young man's shoulder and said:

"Repeat these words."

Rolfe did so.

"And you will not seek to inquire the reason of a request I may make to you, even though it may sound an extraordinary and perhaps mysterious one?"

"I will act as you wish, without desiring to know your motives."

The great financier stood looking straight into his secretary's eyes. He was deeply in earnest, for his very life now depended upon the other's assent. How could he put the proposal to the man before him?

"Then I take that as a promise, Rolfe," he said at last. "You will not withdraw. You will swear to assist me at all hazards—to save me from these men."

"Good! Then today—nay, at this very hour—you must make what you doubt will be to you a great sacrifice."

"What do you mean?" asked Rolfe quickly.

"I mean," the old man said, in a very slow distinct voice—"I mean that you must first sacrifice the honour of the woman you love—Maud Petrovitch!"

"Maud Petrovitch!" he gasped, utterly mystified.

"Yes," he answered. "You have promised to save me—you have sworn to assist me, and the sacrifice is imperative! It is her honour—or my death!"

LONDON'S FINEST SITE.

(Statist.)

As to what is really the finest corner site in the city of London, Messrs. Edwin Fox and Brounfield appear to have no doubt. They place it at the southwest corner of Old Broad street and Throgmorton street. It is adjacent to the stock exchange and in the immediate vicinity of the bank, the Royal exchange, and other great financial and business centers. It possesses a superficial area of about 1,700 feet, and has a return frontage of 145 feet to two of the most famous streets in London.

Alone in that small room where the dinner-cloth had been removed and a decanter and glasses had been placed by his one elderly serving-woman, who had now gone for the night, he was murmuring to himself as he smoked—murmuring incoherent words that sounded much like threats.

EXPECT SPEED IN NEW BOAT DESIGN

The work on the new launches being built by Abe Pittinger and Bob Henry is progressing rapidly, and they will be ready for use in a short time. The model of one of the boats is peculiar and how it will run is creating much comment among local boatmen. The bottom is flat and has a concave place for the wheel. This is done with the idea of running in low water. It is the belief of Mr. Davis, the man who has charge of the building, and who is an expert boat-builder, that considerable speed can be obtained with small horse power from this model and if it matures a number of its kind will be built.

RAILROADS MUST NOT CAUSE DELAY

ORDINANCE PROVIDES ON THE CLEARING OF CROSSINGS

ALDERMAN DOWNS' OBJECTION

Says Ordinance is Not Good for Road and May Hinder It; Other Measures Considered Last Night

After considerable discussion last evening the railroad committee decided that hereafter no railroad passing through this city shall hold a crossing over five minutes. An ordinance was drawn up to that effect and will be recommended to the common council at the next meeting, Friday evening. Alderman John Downs claimed that it was an unjust ordinance and if possible he may try to block its passage at the meeting. The ordinance is no doubt aimed at the Mill street and all the crossings of the Milwaukee road in the east yards, the one at Avon street is held some times for over 10 minutes. The majority of the members of the railroad committee last evening believed that the railroad crossing at Mill street should be left in charge of the gateman and that it would be necessary to flag that crossing. Since the report of the recent engineering expert to the state railroad commission the street car men are flagging this crossing and go to the center of the tracks before they give the "come ahead" signal.

They will, however, recommend an ordinance to the council which will provide for the flagging of the street cars over all crossings including the Mill street crossing.

Street Car Ordinance
 B. E. Edwards, president of the La Crosse street railway, and Superintendent Shaw were present and voiced their views in regard to the ordinance which provides for the laying of street car tracks on paved streets, the kind of material used, and the rails to be laid.

This ordinance has already had its first reading and will no doubt pass at the next meeting.

No Fruit Display
 An ordinance which will recommend that the display of fruit, vegetables and meat be prohibited in front of stores or meat markets, will also be recommended to the council by the board of health which considered the question last evening.

The milk ordinance was also considered and unanimously accepted as set forth in last evening's issue.

ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF A COAT IN SALOON

Just as he was about to depart south on the "blind baggage" on the Burlington road, Richard Carlson was arrested by the night patrolman and taken to the central police station for the alleged theft of a coat from the McAdams saloon on North Third street.

The police made a search for the coat and for a time it seemed as though they had been outwitted, but they kept up a vigilant search until the coat was discovered in the bottom of a truck, which he had already checked for his destination.

Carlson was arrested by the La Crosse police last summer for the theft of articles from a Syrian woman and given 30 days.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

Mrs. Elmina Seip, Allentown, Pa., 75 years old, was subject to weak spells until she was cured by DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY.

Mrs. Seip has just written the Duffy Malt Whiskey Co. as follows:

"I am 75 years old and was subject to weak spells, and when they would attack me I did not know what to do, so I sent for a bottle of DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY, and after I used your medicine a while I felt a change for the better. I have used it constantly as prescribed, until now I am healthy and strong."

"I have used many medicines, but never saw such a change or felt such a change as I did when I used DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY."—MRS. ELMINA SEIP, 715 Liberty St., Allentown, Pa.

Thousands of unsolicited letters of gratitude like this of Mrs. Seip are received from grateful patients who are anxious to extol the merits of this great life-saver—DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

If you wish to keep young, strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions. It tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. Look for the trademark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00. Illustrated medical booklet and doctor's advice free. CAMBRIDGE WINS
FROM OXFORD TODAY

LONDON, April 4.—Cambridge won from Oxford in the boat race today before a vast crowd of people. Cambridge had been the favorite up to a week ago, but sickness had detracted from the crew's chances, leaving the race an uncertainty. A great crowd began gathering along the 4 1/2 mile course on both sides of the Thames at dawn, and fully fifty thousand were on the banks. They were wildly enthusiastic when the race started. Cambridge led all the way, winning by three lengths. Of the annual races Oxford has won 23 and Cambridge, including today, 29. Cambridge has won seven times in the past ten years. The time was 19 minutes, 19 seconds. The record is 18 minutes and 47 seconds, made by Oxford in 1893, and duplicated by Cambridge in 1900.

Considering the personnel of the crews, which was hardly up to the average the time made by the eight today is regarded as unexpectedly good.

JUDGE PLEASED WITH THE JURORS

Circuit Judge John J. Fruit returned this morning from Sparta where he has been holding the chair for the session of Monroe county court. He will return Monday.

Judge Fruit said that he was well pleased with the work of the jurors who had thus far succeeded in reaching an agreement in every case. He said that during his brief visit there he had met every juror and was able to mention the name of every juror on the panel.

During the dinner hour on board a steamer the other day a passenger was much disturbed by the vulgar way in which the man who sat next to him ate his meal. At last, after watching him pick a bone in a very primitive fashion, he could control his feeling no longer, and, turning to the offending party, he said: "Don't you think you would be more comfortable if you took that out on the mat?"

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH RELIEVED.

Perhaps No Medicine in the World Has Relieved More Cases of Catarrh of the Stomach Than Pe-ru-na.

The Symptoms of Stomach Catarrh Are Heaviness After Eating, Belching Gas, Sourness of the Stomach, Sluggish Bowels.

ALDERMAN GEO. W. WEICK, DENVER, COL.

SAYS:—"I HAVE USED PERUNA FOR CATARRH OF THE STOMACH AND IT HAS HELPED ME WONDERFULLY."

SOME OTHER STARTLING TESTIMONIALS.

ALDERMAN GEORGE W. WEICK, 1474 South Seventh Street, Denver, Col., Alderman Eleventh Ward, writes: "I have used Peruna for catarrh of the stomach and it has helped me wonderfully."

Chronic Stomach Trouble.

MR. SAMUEL A. SEAL, Route 2, Treadway, Tenn., writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the great good your medicine, Peruna, has done for me in a chronic case of catarrh of the stomach. I was confined to my bed for some time, and could not sit up. I had tried everything that I could find recommended for catarrh, without any benefit. I tried the best physicians in Hancock County, with little or no benefit. I then tried two of the best physicians in Hawkins County, and found they were doing me no good. I was gradually growing worse."

"Then a friend of mine, passing by, handed me one of your pamphlets, and seeing how Peruna was recommended for catarrh, I sent to Rogersville, Tennessee, next morning, a distance of about fifteen miles, and procured some of your Peruna, and began taking same according to directions, and after taking it a few days I began to get better."

"I continued using it until I was able to go to work on the farm again, and now I am in very good health and do work on my farm."

People who Object to Liquid Medicines Should Buy Peruna Tablets

"I do honestly believe your great medicine, Peruna, saved my life, and I cheerfully recommend it to like sufferers. You are at liberty to publish my testimonial, and I truly hope it may be a benefit to some one."

Catarrh of Head and Stomach.

Mr. Frank Richter, of 309 East Second Street, Winona, Minn., writes: "As a remedy for catarrh I take pleasure in recommending Peruna for catarrh of the stomach. I know what it is to be afflicted with this awful disease, and consider it my duty to say a word in behalf of the remedy which gave me such relief."

"Peruna cured me, and I know it will cure any one else who suffers from this disease. It gives me great pleasure to testify to the curative effects of this medicine."

"Peruna is a well tested and frequently used remedy, and for catarrh of the stomach it is unsurpassed."

"My catarrh was principally located in my head and stomach. I tried several remedies without success. I tried several doctors, but they were unable to cure me. I read of Peruna in the papers, and five bottles cured me."

Almost from the first dose Peruna will relieve symptoms of stomach catarrh. Peruna at once sharpens the appetite, increases the digestive powers, and gives renewed strength."

containing the society's funds, which had been taken by three highway-

the close of the session which is held every Tuesday and Friday to receive

box and were about to run up a stair-struck Gapinski in the forehead, killing him instantly.The entire dragnet of the police was thrown out but up to an early hour this morning no arrests had been made. The police have a good description of the three men, who are said to be Russian Poles.Murder of GapinskiPatrolman Kelly early this morning met two men who answered the descriptions and endeavored to arrest them. They ran down Lapham street and disappeared in the railroad yards of the Chicago & Northwestern

two were implicated in the murder.The murdered man was writing out a check when the three entered the place, which is reached by an outside stairway. Two of the men had covered the nine officers with revolvers, while one of them made for an open cash box which lay on a table in the center of the room.
One of them took some money and then grabbed the box. They made for the door.Gapinski ran for the doorway as the trio were endeavoring to open the door. He grasped the box, which was held by one of the three. One of the three placed a revolver at Ga-dropped to the floor, while the three men ran up the stairway and disappeared.Robbers Drop BootyAll told, $608.40 had been taken agreement with the regents."La Crosse, however, wanted our school, despite these facts and sought to get it through the legislature, subserving all other acts, conceding all kinds of privileges, promises and favors, all through the session, in return for support for this,

their pet measure."They got it through the assembly, but, now would the senate pass
it? A careful canvass of the senate showed a majority of seven against us, pledged to the La Crosse
bill."Our senator and the Superior contingent had almost a forlorn hope,
but, at this critical juncture, Senators Bashford, Burke, Phelan and Kennedy, were appealed to, by the justice of our cause, they listened to our explanation of the situation, investigated, found us right, and voted with our senator T. B. Mills, killing the La Crosse bill and saving our normal school."Though 13 years have elapsed, since this fight, it is still fresh in the memory of a few who were actively engaged in the combat against a thoroughly organized force, the shrewd and powerful La Crosse lobby."Though this is but a synopsis of that event, its details would make a book, and some of us have pledged to our friends the everlasting gratitude of ourselves and our city.
"Permit me to inform and remind the good people of Superior and of northern Wisconsin, that, the "Senator Bashford," above mentioned,
one of the "15 senators," who saved
our school, is Hon. Robert Bashford, now candidate for justice of the supreme court, hence, we have a chance to show the mettle that is in us.
"The vote that finally killed the La Crosse bill stood 15 to 14, and any one of the 15 against us would have been fatal. (See Senate Journal, 1895.)"Respectfully,
"THOMAS F. SOLON."
His Keen ForesightThat Mr. Bashford flopped from La Crosse to Superior on the normal question, is long since ancient history, a thing La Crosse does not care for.What the lawyers and people of La Crosse object to is his habit of flopping after he has with keen discernment sized up the situation.WHITEWINGS START

Company B's ArmoryIn battle array, the La Crosse high school and the Y. M. C. A. basketball teams will meet in their second contest at the Association hall this evening for the championship of the city. The first contest was played last Tuesday evening at the high school gymnasium and resulted in favor of the high school after a hard fought contest. The odds were slightly in favor of the high school in their first contest the game being played in their home, and they were better acquainted with the floor. The "Y" team is considerably heavier but Coach Mueller is optimistic over the prospect and believes that the speed and team work of his team will offset the weight of their opponents.Both teams have excellent records for the season and the games for the championship are played in regular professional form.Coach Erickson of the association team is also confident of victory in this evening's contest and fully expects his team to win the lost honors of Tuesday's game. The question of a referee has not been decided on at the present time and is causing much comment among the players. In the last contest the Y five were not satisfied with the work of Walker and a new official will officiate at this evening's contest.In case the Y team wins tonight's contest the third game to determine the championship will be played on neutral field and in all probability pledged themselves to support the town in the campaign for the school.

We will make a strong fight for the school.""West Salem is more centrally located as far as territory in the county goes, but as to the center of popu-

and prominent men asked to meet at the La Crosse club at 9:15 under the auspices of the La Crosse board of trade, in an effort to get the school for La Crosse. Judge Brindley, E.
M. Wing, William Doerflinger, C. L.
Colman and T. H. Spence were named a committee to take care of La
Crosse's interests before the board.
A strong fight is to be waged for West Salem, and it is the general opinion around the court house that West Salem will get the school.Afternoon.At 3 o'clock the committee on location went into executive session,
and the delegates from Onalaska
were dismissed by Chairman Baker
after they had listened to J. W. Dal-

Onalaska has the best soil and the

the AdministrationWASHINGTON, April 4.—Seth Low, formerly mayor of New York
before the house judiciary committee
today on behalf of the Hepburn bill,
explained that the measure is expected to remedy defects of the Sherman law. He declared the attempts of cotton and wheat growers and farmers to combine to protect themselves is just as much against the law as are illegal business combinations. He said:"Common carriers should be permitted to combine and formulate traffic agreements under suitable government supervision; combinations and traffic agents often mean more effective service to the public.
What is wanted is an effective public supervision, not absolute prohibition of the very thing that may secure the best public service.He pointed out two great benefits that he says will arise from the bill:
"It will give greater publicity to corporation affairs; it is optional."He argued that publicity is likely to be the greatest cure for the many evils which have been brought about by too great restraint, and said:
"Much criticism of the corporations by the people at large is due to the fact that they don't understand corporate methods or corporate procedure. The clause relating to certain phases of trade disputes was inserted for the purpose of quieting the fears of organized labor lest even strikes, labor unions and trade agreements be declared illegal."Cured Of Croup By that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. She gave them large doses of it, and when I returned with the doctor the ba-

Israel Zangwill, the author of the play "Nurse Marjorie," is prone to look upon Miss Robson as his good angel, inasmuch as it was she who discovered in him the possibilities of a successful playwright, and set his feet firmly upon that pathway. Nearly four years ago Mr. Zangwill was known to the English-speaking world merely as an author, whose literary efforts were a long way above par, but he was almost an unknown quantity as far as the theater was concerned, for he had written but one play, "The Children of the Ghetto," and that had been re-used by the public and the press. In this country Miss Robson picked up a volume of stories by Mr. Zangwill, and there discovered "Merely Mary Ann." It struck her as powerful in its theme, and so well adapted to dramatization that she went to her manager, Mr. George C. Tyler, and asked that he get in communication with Mr. Zangwill at once concerning it. Mr. Tyler did so, and made a proposition to the author looking to the dramatization of the story. Mr. Zangwill objected on the ground that he could not see the story as a play. Miss Robson herself convinced him, and from her knowledge of the stage assisted him materially in shaping the forthcoming drama.

As she had predicted, the play proved to be one of the most solid successes that had ever been written. Filled with the spirit of emulation, Miss Cecelia Loftus next turned to Mr. Zangwill for a play—also a dramatization of a story, "The Serio-Comic Governor," but this was of the calibre that made "Merely Mary Ann" what it was. However that may be, when next Miss Robson wanted a play, she went to Mr. Zangwill, with the result that "Nurse Marjorie" made its successful appearance and astonished the author who still insists he would never have been able to accomplish anything at all if it had not been for the kindly sympathy of Miss Robson and her masterful knowledge of technical details of the stage. Thus Miss Robson stands sponsor for Israel Zangwill, playwright. Miss Robson will appear in "Nurse Marjorie" at the La Crosse theater Wednesday, April 8.

MICHELL DECLINES POST

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Mitchell called at the white house today and thanked the president for his offer to make him a special investigator of labor conditions in the canal zone. He declined the place on account of his health.

REVOLUTION BEING ORGANIZED

AN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Federal officials have been warned that corporators are in San Francisco organizing a revolution against President Figueroa of San Salvador. Officers are searching the city for John Edward Moisant, believed to be the head of the plot.

Blanche Walsh, than whom the American stage knows no more brilliant actress, is announced in Wagenhals & Kemper's production of Jacob Gordin's tremendous drama, "The Kreutzer Sonata," at the La Crosse theater Monday, April 13, with the original cast and production as first seen at the Manhattan Theatre, New York. Critics have agreed that the characterization Miss Walsh has given the principal role in this stirring play takes rank with the best creations the American stage has known in a decade. Ever forceful and a virility unequalled by any other player of modern roles and her success has been well earned. The cast was selected because of the particular qualification each and every player had for the role for which they were cast. The production, in keeping with the high standard long since established by Wagenhals & Kemper is complete to the most minute detail.

YON YONSON IS A GOOD PIECE

Ben Hendricks has discovered that a theater-going public is not only competent to judge of a company and its capability, but will patronize a creation that is peopled with performers who know something about acting. In his "Yon Yonson" company he has gathered together a company that is far above what is ordinarily seen in the presentation of plays of this sort. No one will be filled with ennui when they fill a seat at the La Crosse theater Sunday April 5, for the actors are entertaining and secure all the honey out of the lines given them. "Yon Yonson" is of course quite familiar to theater goers, the crowds that have turned out in the past when it has been here is proof that the majority of our people have seen it before. That is why they call it a revival, as it comes to us this season, but there are other reasons too. It has been touched up here and there, made brighter in spots, and comes now in all its perfection. The company producing "Yon Yonson" is capable of entertaining all classes who love clean wholesome comedy, the kind you can take your daughter and sister to, or even the children, for "Yon" is the children's friend, and all the babies love him, for the good heartedness which we find in "Josh Whitcomb" and Fritz and "Nathaniel Barry" is equally present in Hendricks' production, and he is sure to crowd the opera house with his new and novel singing and dancing specialties that are introduced during the play and which are worth the price of admission alone.

CHICAGO SOCIETY IS GIVEN A SHOCK

CHICAGO, April 4.—Dr. George W. McFetrich was granted a decree of divorce from Marguerite E. McFetrich by Judge Theodore Brentano in the superior court yesterday on statutory grounds. Announcement of the legal separation of the Chicago oculist and his beautiful young wife came as a startling sensation to society circles. A short time ago Dr. McFetrich and his father-in-law, Mr. Merkle, went to West Baden for several weeks' stay and during their absence, Mrs. McFetrich somehow or other got the idea that she was being shadowed by detectives. When the doctor returned to Chicago his wife began to reproach him on the subject and became hysterical about it. Her actions aroused the suspicions of the doctor, and she lost her nerve, broke down completely and confessed the whole truth. She told her husband of a series of wrongdoings that extended back several years, and finally confessed the name of a man with whom she is on more than friendly terms.

Mr. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Cure. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." Foley's Kidney Cure works wonders where others are total failures. O. T. Erhart.

LABOR WILL SELECT FRIEND OF LABOR

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—Organized labor will support a presidential candidate friendly to the labor cause without regard to political affiliation, according to John Mitchell, former president of the miners' federation, who is here for a conference with the president.

"In the choice of a candidate," he said, "the instructions of the American Federation of Labor will be followed, likewise the instructions as to the exact part organized labor shall play in the congressional campaign."

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 4.—Instead of leaving for Washington today as originally planned, Mrs. Roosevelt will prolong her stay in New Orleans and the return journey will not be begun until Saturday. Last night a box party was given to Mrs. Roosevelt at one of the local theaters.

HIGH SCHOOL FRAT BANQUET.

An enjoyable event of the week was the banquet given by the "Kiel," the high school fraternity, at the Stoddard hotel, in honor of some of the college boys who are home for their vacation. The guests assembled at 7 o'clock, and at the close of the banquet, several speeches of interest were listened to from Albert Spence, Fred Young, Carl Gunther, and George Byrne. Homer Davis acting as toastmaster. The "Kiel" frat has been organized for five years, and is composed of fourteen active members. Much enthusiasm is shown, and many delightful social affairs are enjoyed during the year. Covers were laid for 15, those present being Homer Davis, Harold Davis, Joe Fowler, Walter Erickson, Allan Werner, George Byrne, Edwin Kelley, Howard Elidemuller, Martin Haley, Walter Shirley, Fred Young, Carl Gunther, Lester Derr, Albert Spence and D. S. Law.

Mrs. A. Haller entertained the Ladies' Aid society of the English Lutheran church Wednesday afternoon at the church parlors. There was a good attendance.

The Luther league of the English Lutheran church met Thursday evening at the home of George Youngberg, 710 Ferry street. The lecture committee gave a good report of the work done by it this winter. The lectures had been a success financially and in every other way. The league contemplates giving another series of lectures next fall and winter. The stereopticon and outfit has been paid for and become the property of the league. A reception will be given some time this month to the class which is to be confirmed Palm Sunday. The committee to have charge of this reception consists of Misses Jennie Outmans, Helen Jacobson and Mr. Joseph Bjornstad.

SOCIAL BREVITIES

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Haines of Minneapolis, Minn., are in the city and will spend a few days as the guests of friends and relatives here. Mr. Haines was formerly editor of the Independent, an old La Crosse newspaper.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS

A merry company of Epworth leaguers of the West Avenue Methodist church gathered at the home of Social Vice President Bartz for a deferred April Fool social Thursday evening.

The company was royally entertained by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bartz, and delightfully proved the assertion that welcomed the guests to the house, "What fools these mortals be." A contest in forming words from the letters contained in "April first" resulted in Miss Handy winning the ladies' prize and Mr. Cunningham the gentlemen's, with a score of 52 and 51 words respectively. A "seeking the bean" contest proved R. C. McCaleb the most modest of the gathering.

Having secured numbers of the succulent and edifying exponent of Boston's wisdom, there was much opportunity for literary development and one outbreak was permitted, namely of assigning each person the task of composing a poem, preferably with two lines, containing the words "April fool." The following received the unanimous choice for the best, though many were creditable:

"We chased the bean over chair and stool,
And for our pains received an April fool."

So that while O. C. Bangsberg failed on beans, he made good on poetry.

Ice cream and cake were served and the company went home wiser and jollier for the pleasant time had.

LADIES' CIRCLE MEETS

The Ladies' Sewing circle of the West Avenue Methodist church will meet with Mrs. W. A. Lockman, 1402 Mississippi street, Thursday afternoon.

BROTHERHOOD'S TRIAL

The Brotherhood of St. Paul of West Avenue Methodist church beg to invite the public to attend the mock trial to be held in the church Thursday evening, April 9th, at 7:30 p. m. sharp.

It is hoped that the impanelment of a jury may not be hindered because the public has read too much concerning the case.

Much talk of bribery of jury by both sides has been had and there is fear of tampering with the ends of justice.

Some have intimated that there will be more fun of the Simon pure variety than a box of monkeys but it is the deliberate intention of the officials of Prairie Dog county to do justice and justice is a serious matter. The public will please endeavor to control themselves as the bailiff will have all that he can do keeping the attorneys of the opposing sides in attitudes of peace, to say nothing of the witnesses and jury.

LITTLE GIRLS GIVE

An April fool party was given on April 1 by the little Misses Elizabeth and Marie Rawlinson, daughters of County Clerk Rawlinson, at their home, 1113 South Seventh street.

The invitations formed a sort of a guessing contest and the guests were forced to hunt the party, the place of its being held not being printed on the invitations.

A guessing contest furnished amusement during the party, the prizes in this contest being taken by the Misses Beth Keizer and Tessie Neumoun. In a peanut contest Ida Mattak took the prize.

Those present were: Beth Keizer, Anna Keizer, Tessie Neumoun, Grace Forbes, Winnifred Forbes, Carroll Forbes, Ida Mattak, Gretchen Bonadeur, Elsie Pfafflin, Myrtle Eilers, Helen Eilers, Pearl Eilers, Leona Verhaag, Vivian Harrison, Gresalda Rupp.

LA CROSSE WOMAN'S CLUB.
The La Crosse Woman's club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. J. Bullock. It was a social afternoon, the program being an April Fool affair. Mesdames Dodge, Carter, Bice and Kemper were hostesses. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. J. W. Dewey, who acted as "maid" and were told the meeting would meet at another place. After they had gone sufficiently far enough to be fooled, they were called back. A paper on the origin of "April Fool's day" was read, and different guessing games indulged in. The menu consisted of "macaroni" on toast (asparagus), coffee, ice cream and sponge cake. The table decorations were beautiful, the center piece being a beautiful bouquet of sprouted onions, yellow and white (the club colors), ribbons, in the disguise of clothes lines, were draped from the chandelier to the corners of the table. Each guest was obliged to wear a fool's cap. Very unique place cards were used and altogether it was voted a very enjoyable afternoon.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Calcedonia Street M. E. church will meet Friday afternoon in the church parlors. They will be entertained by Mesdames Marshall, McKenzie, Nestler and Owens.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.
A number of friends helped Mr. A. G. Thatro, 502 Johnson street, to celebrate his thirty-third birthday last Saturday evening.

Progressive cinch was the amusement indulged in. The head prizes were taken by Mr. and Mrs. Melbin; the booby by Mrs. Rosberg and Mrs. Berndt. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Golinik, Mr. and Mrs. Rosberg, Mr. and Mrs. Berndt, Mr. and Mrs. Platz, Mr. and Mrs. Melbin, Mr. and Mrs. Cone, Mr. and Mrs. Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson.

ENTERTAIN S. S. CLASSES.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hallauer, of 802 South Seventh street, delightfully entertained their Sunday school classes this week. In the afternoon eight young girls were the guests of Mrs. Hallauer, when a pleasant social time was had and refreshments were served, and in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Hallauer both entertained about 25 young men and women. Dressing potato dolls in tissue paper gowns proved a highly interesting form of amusement, and April jokes also played their share in the evening's pleasure. Refreshments were served and the affair was one of great enjoyment.

SURPRISE PARTY.

The ladies of the German M. E. church perpetrated a pleasant surprise on Mrs. Sexauer's sister, Mrs. Fred Hupp of Montana, who has been her guest for some time, but who expects soon to return to her home on Friday afternoon. The ladies brought their needlework, and enjoyed a social afternoon, and they also came laden with baskets of good things, so that at six o'clock a bountiful spread was served. Among the guests were: Rev. and Mrs. Panzlau, Mr. and Mrs. Brandenburg, Mesdames A. Wanner, George Merman, H. Schick, Carl Rau, C. Henker, T. Henker, C. Miller, Witt, Pafflin, Hausman, W. Eilers, F. Stellingware, W. F. Ruehlman, Mrs. J. Bauer, W. Theil, H. Gross, C. French, F. Holtz, Schneider, Schultz, B. Wishner, Sorel, Hupp and Sexauer.

Y. W. C. A. ANNUAL.

The annual meeting of the Y. W. C. A. which was held last evening in the gymnasium, was a great success in every way, over one hundred people being in attendance. The gymnasium was handsomely decorated for the occasion, flags, potted plants and flowers being used profusely, and with artistic effect. A delightful program was rendered, the different classes participating. The reports of the year were read, showing that excellent progress has been made, and the association feels very much encouraged with the situation. Ice cream and cake were dispensed at the close of the exercises.

SPECIAL WELCOME FOR NEW MEMBERS

Services of special interest are to be held both morning and evening at the First Baptist church Sunday. The morning service, beginning at 10:30, will be termed "New members" service, for at that meeting all the members recently received into the membership of the church will be given a formal welcome.

It is the custom in Baptist churches for the pastor to extend the hand of fellowship, on behalf of the members of the church, to the new members. The class to be thus welcomed Sunday is the largest ever yet received into the church.

It is expected that the new members will have special seats reserved for them. On the platform with the pastor will be the board of directors, who will assist in the program. After the opening exercises and a short sermon the new members will form a circle around the church and then be formally welcomed. The gallery of the church will be open to all visitors who may desire to attend the service.

At the evening meeting the large mixed chorus will occupy the two platforms on the sides of the church and render special music as well as lead the song service. The theme to be treated by Rev. Hoag is "Money and Morals." This is an address delivered by Rev. Hoag in a neighboring city, which was most enthusiastically received.

DOCTOR'S ORDER WAS: 'CUTICURA'

For a Bad Case of Eczema on Child
—Suffered for Three Months—
Disease Reached a Fearful State
—Pain and Itching were Terrible.

CURED AFTER OTHER PRESCRIPTIONS FAILED

"When I was small I was troubled with eczema for about three months. It was all over my face and covered nearly all of my head. It reached such a state that it was just a large scab all over, and the pain and itching were terrible. I doctored with an able physician for some time and was then advised by him to use the Cuticura Remedies which I did and I was entirely cured. I have not been bothered with it since. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment but do not know exactly how much was used to complete the cure. I can safely say that Cuticura did a lot for me. Miss Anabel Wilson, North Branch, Mich., Oct. 20, 1907."

ITCHING CURED

With Cuticura Remedies in Three Days After Six Months of Suffering.

"I suffered fully six months. The trouble began on my arms in little red pimples and it was not long before it was all over my body, limbs, face, and hands. It was so bad that I could not rest night or day and during the six months, I did not get a good night's sleep. I doctored for three or four months and spent at least twenty dollars trying to find a cure but none could be found. Then I saw the Cuticura Remedies advertised, and the next day I purchased some for seventy-five cents at the drugstore. I used them and I was relieved of the itching in three days, and I have never had a sign of my skin disease since. The Cuticura Remedies are the only remedies to use for skin diseases, they have cured me and they will cure others in the same way. J. W. Bloom, R. R. LONG DISTANCE POLITENESS

"Being polite over the telephone is one of the most up-to-date forms of courtesy," says a recent magazine writer. "There is always a tendency when a person first uses the convenient instrument to feel that because he isn't talking to anybody face to face he needn't be so civil as in ordinary conversation." This is one of the elementary lessons that the Wisconsin Telephone Company seeks to impart to all its employees. They are under orders above all things else to refrain from showing irritation or being unnecessarily voluble when using the company's lines. In these days when everybody has a telephone everybody is learning to use it as a civilized being should, with due regard for the sensibilities of the unseen person at the other end. The Bell telephone companies have set this example by training their operators to speak gently and courteously. The politeness costs nothing and it promotes a pleasant feeling toward the company.

FINNISH POSTMISTRESS HELD

SEVERAL OTHERS ARE HELD

Authorities of Sault Ste. Marie Investigate Case That Looks Bad for Prominent Young Woman

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., April 4.—Mary Rundhomaki, said to be the postmistress at the Finnish settlement of Kretan on Drummond Island, a young unmarried Finnish man and several Finnish neighbors are being held pending the investigation being made by Prosecuting Attorney George B. Holden and other authorities of this county as to the mysterious death of an infant born on Drummond Island, said to have been born at the Dundhomaki home, March 21.

The child is said to have been born in a small room occupied by Mary and John W. Wikeman, a Finnish couple living with the Rundhomakis. The body of the infant was found concealed in an old trunk March 26. Mary Rundhomaki, the alleged mother, claims the child was still-born and Wikeman and his wife deny any knowledge of the peculiar affair. A doctor employed to make an examination of the body declares the child was born alive and bled to death.

ARMED MEN GUARD BALLOTS

SIoux CITY, Iowa, April 4.—The republican city central committee has instituted contests against W. G. Sears and Samuel Page, who upon the face of returns were chosen as mayor and police judge respectively by small majorities at Monday's election. There was trouble over the count in one or two wards on election night, and the fact that the republicans have employed armed men to watch the ballot boxes day and night pending the opening of contest proceedings has created a sensation in political circles. Guards were employed Tuesday, but the fact did not become public until yesterday.

PICTURE HATS TO BE BARRED

TOLEDO, Ohio, April 4.—Toledo's many feminine fans are pondering over an announcement made by Manager W. R. Armour of the Toledo ball team that big picture hats would be barred from the baseball park this season. The management declared that the size of the feminine headgear obstructed the view of the male fans and distracted attention from the game.

The announcement followed an investigation of millinery styles for the summer. While the order may cause considerable trouble, Armour says it will stand.

GIRLIES PUZZLE UNCLE SAM MUCH

SERVANT GIRL PROBLEM Baffles the Government

MR. POWDERLY IS DEFEATED

Immigration Chief Fell Down in Attempt to Supply Nation With Domestic Servants

Washington Bureau of

The La Crosse Tribune.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.
(By J. C. Welliver.)

At last, Uncle Sam has officially recognized there is one thing that is too big for him to tackle. He feels competent to bluff Venezuela or lick Japan or regulate the railroads and the corporations. He can even make the Kaiser accept an ambassador against his will. But it has been reserved for the servant girl problem to floor him completely.

Powderly in Hot Water.
Last year, the division of information of the bureau of immigration was organized in the department of commerce and labor. Terence V. Powderly, former head of the Knights of Labor, was put at its head. Mr. Powderly has had many years of experience with the various labor problems before the country and probably ought to have known better than to become tangled up with the problem of supplying the land with servant girls. At any rate, he ventured into this field of endeavor in a rash and misguided manner and speedily became sorry he had done it.

Mr. Powderly has learned now that what the housewives of the United States have never come within a thousand miles from solving there is not much use for a paternal government to try to solve. The division of information has thrown up its hands completely and is leaving the servant girls question to work its way out without government interference.

Government to Furnish Help.
When the division of information first set to work, inquiries were sent out to state and local authorities asking what help was needed. Private parties were also encouraged to advise the division as to what help they wanted. Straightway, there came pouring in through the mails, along with a heavy demand for male labor, a flood of calls for servant girls. From Maine to California the cry went up that servant girls were needed and widespread publicity was given to the fact that the government had at last taken steps to supply domestics. Roseate pictures were painted telling how all a woman who wanted a servant girl had to do was to write Mr. Powderly and one would be sent her when the next shipload of immigrants arrived in New York.

Supply of Servants Inadequate.

All this is changed now. The government has quit trying to supply servant girls. The division of information found itself swamped beneath an avalanche of demands for female help. It could not begin to meet these demands. After trying the job in vain for months, Mr. Powderly and his aides gave it up in despair and discouragement. They found it impossible to get young women who came from Europe willing to work as domestics to go inland. In despair and discouragement they found that the demand for servant girls there was so great as practically to consume the enormous supply of young women who come to this country willing to work as servants. It was found that any fairly competent young woman, even if unable to speak English, could secure work as a domestic in New York almost as soon as she landed. It was found, too, that the demand for domestics in the large cities is so great that many women support large families by domestic service. It frequently happens that the wages of the wife who is in domestic service are higher than those of her husband. These and other facts discovered by the division of information when they began to get the real truth about the servant girl problem convinced the officials of the utter uselessness of trying to cope with the situation. There are not enough servant girls to go around and that's all there is to it and even the strong arm of the government can't help the situation.

GIVEN CARNEGIE PENSIONS.

NORTHFIELD, Minn., April 4.—Carleton college has received official notice from the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching that Prof. Margaret J. Evans and Lucian W. Chaney have been granted retirement allowances. The resignations of these professors will take effect in June, and their connection with the Carnegie foundation will begin at that time.

"ROTTEN EGGED" BY WOMAN.

KERMIT, S. D., April 4.—Much bitterness prevails between Noonan and Kermit as a result of business rivalry, and the recent arrest of C. H. Manhart, on a charge of burning a building belonging to Noonan parties who were moving it from Kermit to Noonan. J. M. Johnson, who was one of the witnesses in this case, was bombarded recently with rotten eggs by women of Kermit. He was badly bespattered before he could escape.

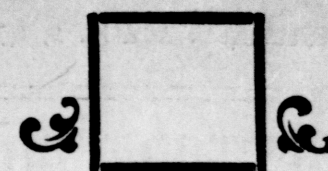

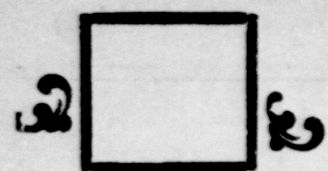

How to Avoid Appendicitis.
Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels and restores the natural action of the bowels. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. O. T. Erhart.

THE SNOW FLAKES.

O, little, little snow-flakes,
Tell, oh, tell me pray,
Through all the long bright summer
time
Where is it that you stay?

If you would come in summer,
How charming it would seem,
To see you join the fairy dance
Of fire flies on the green.

The butterflies would chase you,
A-flitting to and fro;
And, oh, how sweet the roses red,
Would look in hoods of snow.

And when we all grew weary
With summer's heat and glow,
How cool would be your icy touch,
You, little flakes of snow.

So, little, little snow-flakes,
Don't keep so long away,
If you will come in summer time,
Till winter you can stay.

A CHAT WITH THE JUNIORS.

My Dear Sunshine Juniors:

I cannot begin to tell you how glad I am that you all respond so well, and are so willing and kind to help others who are not so fortunate as we are. Such a lot of nice letters, and so many pennies and kind words and stamps, and little garments that have been coming into this office since last Saturday. One dear little girl from Viroqua sent 25 pennies.

One little girl that had no pennies to send, sent—what do you think—a little black leather pocket-book to keep the others' pennies in, and I can't tell you what a comfort that has been to me, for I have put that money altogether and shall keep it in this little purse (unless others send too small) until I get enough. Others sent 5, and some 2 and one 10 cents each, what they care to spare.

Up to now there have come into the office 62 pennies toward the little boy's shoes, and it looks very much as though there was going to be more than enough to get them. I don't think we better pay less than $1.75, as they don't wear very well if they are cheaper. But $1.75 buys a very good boy's shoe. Now, do you think it is a good idea, if there is any left over toward Easter time, to get a pair for the mother too? She has one of one kind, and one of another, and one of these is nearly worn out, and they are all she has. She has a fairly good dress, and a lady had a very nice hat trimmed for her last week. She wants to go to church on Easter Sunday, for she says she hasn't been for many long years, and she likes music so well. Of course it seems almost a hopeless task, for they have been so long without the necessary things that they have to start at the beginning. But little by little we will do what we can, and there are two whole weeks before Easter. If any of you Sunshiners get track of a suit for a boy of 11 years, that would do him for awhile, you could let me know, for his clothes are terrible, and I don't suppose he could go to church even with new shoes, without a decent coat on. The little girl of two years old received such a pretty little dimity dress, a nice little pair of shoes (she was wearing some old rubbers) and some nice undergarments, all trimmed with lace, and a pretty little bonnet with blue ribbons on it; then the little tiny baby received many pretty and useful clothes. So many of the older folks have been so kind, that I think they ought to be included in our Sunshine society, don't you? There are three, two pair of pillow-covers, one quilt, some new tinware, has been given this week, besides three glasses of jelly, two cans of peaches, eggs, bananas, oranges and different little delicacies for the sick mother. Isn't it just fine, that people are all so good hearted? I want my Juniors to know that these are two different families—the lady that got the hat and the little boy for which you are getting the shoes, are mother and son—this is all the children she has.

Then the lady that has the little girl two years old and the little tiny baby, is the one that has been receiving so many little clothes and the bed clothes and the things to eat. One lady is staying with the other lady and helping her until she can get strong again, and this is very good of her too. These ladies are so thankful for what we are doing, and the little boy—whose name is Johnny—is just happy over the idea of a brand new pair of shoes for Easter.

Don't think, Juniors, that if you can't send or do a whole lot, that you don't want to do anything; why, the pennies are just as good as anything else if that is all you can send. Of course, it is nice to get the dimes and quarters, just fine, but you see 10 pennies make a dime, and when the pennies roll in fast, they are every bit as welcome.

I think this is all I have to say this time, and I hope I will have as good a report to make next week, as I have this; there are many more Juniors to hear from yet, the captains have forgotten us this week, but

I'm sure they will write soon. Yours for success,

BERTHA BURTON.

P. S.—I do like so much to see my Juniors. Marjorie Pierce from Viroqua came in to say how-do-you-do to me this week. Come any time that you can, Juniors.

HELP COMES FOR THE POOR LITTLE ONESMiss Burton:
The clothes are for the little girl and the money is for the little boy.
CATHERINE PHIFER.

Dear Miss Burton:

As our topic this week is "Kindness," I will try and write a nice little letter on that subject. I like to be kind to people, and mamma and I are going to send 25 cents. I have a very kind mamma who likes to help people out that way. I feel very sorry for that poor little boy, and would like to help more. I guess I will bring my letter to a close.

Your Little Sunshiner,
MARJORIE PIERCE.

Dear Miss Burton:

As the topic for this week is "Kindness," I will write some on it. I think all children should be kind to everybody and also animals. I have seen children tease a younger child, and how very unhappy that little child is. That is not kindness. It is very unkind for boys to kill frogs or hurt dogs and cats or spoil birds' nests.

My little brother will cry if his cat isn't fed every meal time. I feel so sorry for those little children who spoke of, and hope we can get that little boy a new pair of shoes for Easter.

I think this is a good memory gem, "Kindness is to do and say, the kindest things in the kindest way."

Your loving Junior,
MARGARET FARRELL,
La Crescent, Minn. Age 10.

Dear Miss Burton:

As our subject this week is "Kindness," I think we should always be kind to the old and poor. I was sorry to hear of those poor children, and I think we should be kind and help them.

I am going to give some of my money to help buy shoes for the little boy and my mamma is so kind she is going to make some clothes for the little girl.

Your Little Sunshiner,
CATHERINE PHIFER.
Six years old.

Dear Miss Burton:

As I see so many of my friends write to the Junior Page I would like to join also. I would like to be on the "Blue" side. I am 11 years old. My teacher's name is Miss Gillespie. I go to the Ninth ward school and am in the 5A grade.

Your Junior,
LOIS DRAKE.
P. S.—I will put in two cents for a present for the poor boy.

Lansing, Iowa.

Kind Miss Burton:
I am going to write to the "Sunshine Juniors." I have not written before but I always read the letters. I am 12 years old. I am in the seventh grade and go to the public high school. I would like to belong to the Reds. I will write a letter about a little boy's scheme, but I think you would call it kindness.

Your friend,
MARGARET VALLEY.
JIMMIE'S SCHEME.

Once there was a little orphan girl and boy who lived in two big dry goods boxes against the sunny side of Irish Polly's shack. The Irish woman was about as poor as Jimmie and Midget themselves, but she let them cook their simple meals on her cracked stove.

Jimmie lived in Denver and attended a mission Sunday school. He was the most regular attendant of his class, and this honor had led his teacher to bestow upon him an invitation to spend Christmas with a wealthy but eccentric old couple living up at Silver Plume.

You see I am acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Hartman, explained his teacher. They are odd in their ways but a very old couple. They often send me money to carry on my mission work. Now they have no children and they conceived the idea of having two boys come up to Silver Plume and spend Christmas with them. I have you for one of the boys and you Jimmie may choose the other.

Jimmie knew many friends whom he could ask, but how could he leave Midget home? Could he not dress her up as a boy. He would ask her. So when he had sold his papers he ran home to ask her. She did not like to at first, but when she saw her brother's face fall she said she would. Then he dressed her up. Then they started for the depot. The way there was very pleasant. When they got there the old gentleman was there ready to greet them.

When they went to bed he heard Mr. and Mrs. Hartman talking about them and Mrs. Hartman said, "I wish the little one was a girl. Then the boy came in front of the old people and said, 'I am a liar. I made my sister act a liar too. You may do anything to me for doing it.'"

Then the old man said, "That is a jolly Christmas scheme, Jimmie. Midget hasn't been harmed by coming that way. Would you like to stay here all the time and spend all your Christmases here?"

Jimmie looked up through his tears and his face began to brighten as the old man said, "Then you shall."

And after that Jimmie was always kind to the old people and his sister.

Dear Miss Burton:

You want us to write about kindness this week. I have a little friend named Florence who lives in Winona; my little friend, is deaf and dumb. Some children whom she plays with are very mean to her, and pinch her and slap her. When I come to Winona she is so glad to have me come. I am going to Winona this week, and I will see my little friend Florence again; she will be glad to see me again. I am going to stay a week at my grandma's. I have vacation all this week. I am very kind to my little friend Florence. She likes me the best of all her friends.

I will send a nickel for the little boy in this letter, and hope that the Juniors will help to buy him a pair of shoes. I think that will be a good Easter present for him.

I think I will close now and will try to write again next week.

Your little friend,
HORTESE PRINZ.
Age 10 years.

Dear Miss Burton:

I think the subject for this week is a fine subject. I will try and write the best I can about it. In our library we have a book, the title of which is: "The Dog of Flanders."

This story speaks of kindness. I will try to relate a short part of it. Once there was a dog by the name of Pastrache. His owner was a brutal man. He made the dog carry a cart full of tin, pans, pottery, etc., to the city of Antwerp every day. Once his owner gave him no food for 24 hours, and what was far worse for him he hadn't tasted water for nearly twelve hours. He could hardly carry the load that day. He was very tired and hungry and sick. The only medicine he got was kicks and blows. His owner saw he could not drag the cart any longer so he kicked his body heavily aside into a ditch and he began to push the cart along himself. It happened that a little boy and an old man passed by. They saw the dog and took compassion on him and brought him home. They were very kind to him. They gave him a nice bed of straw and in the night they would listen to his breathing to see if he was alive or dead. This old man had to carry milk into another city. When Pastrache saw the old man going to carry the milk Pastrache went to where the cart stood and wagged his tail. The old man knew he wanted to carry the cart but he thought it cruel to make a dog work. Then Pastrache took the cart by his teeth and started to push it so then the old man gave in and let him pull the cart. The little boy loved the dog very much and in return the dog showed his affection for him too. When winter came the old man was very glad he had a dog for he was hardly able to carry milk all winter, for he was ill and very feeble. Pastrache became strong and powerful after he had lived sometime in his nice home. These two, although poor, were very kind. There is much more to the story but I think I shall have to close now for I fear my story will take up too much space.

Your loving Junior,
HAEL MARTELLE.

Dear Miss Burton:

I will try my best to write on the topic "Kindness."

I have tried my best to be as useful and kind around home as I can. We have had much sickness since New Year.

The baby was sick and my little brother Arthur was sick for six weeks. My father was sick for a while and my brother Harold got hurt.

The neighbors were very kind to come and see us. They brought little dainties which they thought the little ones would like and everybody was kind to us.

I think it is very kind of you to help us Juniors to do kind work. I should think every Sunshiner would be glad to give two cents in order to make a little boy happy on Easter day. I hope every Junior will give two cents so it will make two dollars as there are 100 members.

I will close with best regards to all.

Your Junior,
LILLIAN OPSAHL.
1512 Charles St.

P. S.—I think it will be nice if our Sunshiners can have a picnic as Esther Noem mentioned in her last week's letter.

(I didn't realize myself there were 100 members till I looked it up. Indeed we can accomplish a lot.)

Kind Miss Burton:

Enclosed is my composition on "Kindness."

Your loving Junior,
EMMA RIEBE.

KINDNESS.
Kind hearts are the gardens,
Kind thoughts are the roots,
Kind words are the blossoms,
Kind deeds are the fruits.

The meaning of this little rhyme is clear to all. If we are kind-hearted our thoughts will likewise be kind and then, naturally, kind deeds and kind words will follow. If all the world were kind this earth would almost be a paradise.

Rev. Frederick William Faber, the great clergyman of England, poet and author, has said, "Kind words are the music of the world. They have a power which seems to be beyond natural causes; as if they were some angel's song which had lost its way, and come on earth, and sang on undyingly, smiting the hearts of men with the sweetest sounds, and putting for a while, an angel's nature into us. In truth, there is hardly a power on earth equal to them."

Kind words cost us nothing, yet untold good can be done in this way. The first stanza of a song which the girls here sometimes sing, tells of the worth of kind words.

"Kind words can never die,
Cherished and blest,
God knows how deep they lie,
Deep in the breast."

Like childhood's simple rhymes,
Said o'er a thousand times,
Go through all years and chimes,
The heart to cheer."

Those who speak kindly pass on to kind actions. All the kind deeds that have been done and can be done are too numerous to mention.

A nice little motto which the Minims have printed on their blackboard, is:

"With a hand that is kind,
And a heart that is true,
To make others glad,
There is much we can do."

At one time we had on our board:
"To be polite is to do and say,
The kindest thing in the kindest way."

This shows us that true politeness is true kindness.

If we were to follow our Divine Savior's precept, "Love thy neighbor as thyself," and to observe the golden rule, "Do unto others as you would that they would do to you," this world would, indeed, be a kind world.

EMMA RIEBE.

Dear Miss Burton:

You told us last week that it would be very nice to help some of the poor people some way. I have the same opinion, and I will gladly send a few cents to help get a pair of shoes for the boy that had to wear his mother's shoes. I have at least a dime to send. As our topic this week is kindness I will try and write on it.

"One cold winter's day when it was very icy, our neighbor girls went to the store, and on their way back, they crossed through our yard. On the west side of our house is a bank about a foot and a half high. It was so high that the younger girl could not get up, and as the other girl had her arms full she could not help her. The little girl tried and tried and then she began to cry.

I looked out of the window and saw her. I thought for a moment and then I went out to where she was and asked her to see what the matter was. She answered, "I cannot get up, and it is too far to go around." Then I got up on the bank and took hold of her hand and so she got up. Well I guess I will have to close so that the rest of the Juniors will have some room for their letters.

Kind Miss Burton:

I will tell you about a poor boy who had lost his mother and father when he was young. It was one cold December afternoon, when this poor boy was walking through the woods to the next valley. He was only bumping around because he had no home. As he was walking he happened to hear a nice song and he stopped to listen. At last he saw a nice little white house between the trees. He made up his mind to go into the house to see what they were doing there. He sat down on a bench by the door. This was a little school house. He did not know what it was because he had never been to school before. After they were through singing everybody put their eyes on him. At last a girl came. That was the only girl in the family and she said that she would take the boy home and ask her father if the boy couldn't be her brother. She did so and her father was glad to have him. They adopted this poor boy. This was very kind of this girl. He grew to be a lovely young man. I will close for this time.

Dear Miss Burton:
I did not write week before last because my eyes hurt. I had never been homesick, so I could not write. How will we send the money? Write in Saturday's paper how we should send it and I will send it next week.

KIND OR KINDNESS.

One day a boy was out sliding down hill. When he had gotten to the bottom of the hill he called the rest of the boys and said, "Boys, let's go and help that poor old man. We can put the corn on our sleds and draw him and the corn home. Then we will all put in some money and buy him some new clothes; his old clothes are so ragged."

But the boys laughed at him and said he was crazy. That he should come and slide, because the snow would melt in a while. And that they could not slide, and then they had just enough money for themselves without wasting money on an old man like him. They said he could go to work and earn money to buy his own clothes and they went up the hill making fun of him, but he did not care. He went with his sled over to where the man was. He seated the old man on the sled and the corn in back of him. The old man told him where to go and they

NEW SCALP PROPHYLACTIC.

Newbro's Herpicide is the first Prophylactic for the hair and scalp. Its formula harmonizes with the theory (now a recognized fact) that dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair are of microbic origin. Herpicide defends the hair and scalp against disease and by destroying the scalp microbe or dandruff germ (a tiny vegetable growth) it eradicates dandruff, stops falling hair and permits the hair to grow as nature intended. Almost marvelous results sometimes follow its use. Miss Clutter's letter and photograph certainly speak for themselves.

"I herewith enclose you one of my latest photographs, which will show you what Newbro's Herpicide has done for my hair. Since using your remedy my hair is much longer than it was, and it has that luster to it that one's hair always has when their scalp is in a healthy condition."

got home. The old man thanked him kindly.

The boy did not go back to the hill to play. He went home and told his mother about the man. The boy had quite a bit of money he had saved for Easter. But he took all his money and gave it all to the old man.

The boy put him on the sled and they went to the clothing store and bought the old man some clothes. Then they went to a grocery store and bought some groceries. Then he sent home. Don't you think the boy was kind?

Your friend,

FRANCES JAMES.
1217 Charles street.JUNIOR STORY*A STORY ABOUT KINDNESS.

It was the day before Thanksgiving, and Gracie and her mother went out to make some calls. They were not exactly calls. Mrs. Miller was trying to collect money for a poor family, and Gracie was always pleased to be her mother's companion. She listened very attentively to the story about the poor man who had been hurt by a fall. He would not have much of a Thanksgiving dinner, unless kind people gave money enough to buy one for him. In a short time the money was given, and Gracie went with her mother to order the dinner.

She longed to do something herself for the poor family, and as she listened to the order, she heard nothing said about bread.

"Now we always have bread at dinner," thought Gracie, "mamma has forgotten it. I will buy it with my own money."

Gracie had ten cents that she had saved to buy a doll's hat, and without telling any one what she meant to do, bought a loaf of bread and carried it to Vine street, where Mr. Jones lived. She was not quite sure of the house, but she knocked at the door of the poorest looking one and a girl of her own age came to the door.

"I've brought you some bread," said Gracie shyly. "My mamma sent the turkey and the other things for your sick papa, but she forgot the bread, and I have brought it."

"Oh, thank you ever so much," said the little girl. "I haven't any papa or mamma either, and grandma has been too sick to get anything for tomorrow, but she will like this nice bread."

"Does Mr. Jones live here?" asked Gracie.

"No, he lives on the corner. Oh, if this bread was for him, we must not take it." And she handed back the bread to Gracie.

"Yes, you must keep it," said Gracie; "I bought it with my own money, and Mr. Jones has all the other things, you know."

When Gracie went home and told her mother what she had done, Mrs. Miller went out again with a little basketful of good things for the little girl.

Gracie enjoyed her dinner doubly when she thought of the poor families they had helped.

THE OLD DOG TIM

I know my Juniors will be interested in reading about this dear old doggie by the name of Tim, who used to be in Paddington station in London (one of the greatest railroad stations in the world) and who used to have a tin box around his neck, and collect money for the widows and orphans' fund. It is thus told in the Youth's Companion.

"Tim was perhaps not very much to look at—a bright-eyed, wire-haired, clever little Irish terrier, with a collar and a box attached to his neck. But he knew his business, and the widows and orphans of the railway have reason to mourn his death. His average collection in their behalf was over a dollar a day, and his whole period of service reached the sum of $3,980. The silent appeal of his bright eyes and the touch of his friendly, cold nose won shillings from many pockets which might have remained closed against a more obtrusive request. He was a great pet with the children, whose precious pennies often jingled into his box; and of course he was the friend and chum of the railroad men. But he made other friends, too, more famous although not more loyal. 'With royalty he was a particular favorite,' said one of the Paddington inspectors. 'Often and often did the late Queen ask for the old dog, and the last time her Majesty patted him, she put a sovereign in his box. That was on May 15, 1899. I remember it well. But the king was just as fond of him and so was Queen Alexandra. Tim knew quite well when they came, and was always extra good and proud.' Notwithstanding the turmoil always going on about him, and the danger of shifting luggage, hurrying crowds and shrieking engines, Tim escaped accident, and died of simple old age. His friends had perceived for some time that he was falling and when it became evident that the box and collar in which he had so long taken pride—he was always the prouder and more pleased the heavier it became—had become at length a burden, they knew the old dog's end was near. He laid down his task and his life together and was decently interred and duly mourned as became one who had been a faithful servant of the company for so many years."

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 4.—The populists decided today never again to leave the "middle of the road," never to fuse with other parties. The idea was incorporated in the platform and adopted at the national convention here. Other things advocated are: All money be issued by the government to the people, doing away with banks; postal savings banks; parcels posts; public lands be parceled out to those who intend to occupy them; government to own all utilities including railroads, telephones and telegraphs; taxes on franchises to favored corporations; initiative and referendum; eight hour day; labor to have right to organize; employers' liability.

HARD CONTESTS FOR SIX SUPERVISORS

At the election next Tuesday, six country members of the county board of supervisors are in line for a fight. Spirited contests are to be waged in most of the precincts and the present holders are exerting all power to retain their seats. The hardest fight is being conducted in the town of Farmington where the license question is the stumbling block and there is a possibility that Gullikson will be defeated.

The following supervisors have contests on next Tuesday: L. Christopherson, Burns; Peter Gullikson, Farmington; Michael McHugh, Holland; V. S. Keppel, Onalaska; J. A. Skogen, city of Onalaska; William Wolf, Campbell.

A. Lee, whose photo appeared in the recent edition of "The Yeoman Shield."

The deputies had 122 new applicants, the largest number written in the month anywhere, the next number written being 64. The class adoption of 134 was the largest that has ever been received in any order in this city.

Forty-two members were adopted during the month of March.

The local homestead will have another adoption on April 9, when a class of 50 will be adopted.

Mr. H. A. Lee was ill at his home during the past few days but is improving.

GOSSIP OF THE PIT.

Outlook: We are still of the opinion that we are near bullish developments in the wheat market. Corn prices may sell somewhat lower in view of heavy receipts and increased grading of contract corn. For the time being sales of September oats seem advisable but do this on bulges only and for present be satisfied with fair scalping profits.

Private wire from Oklahoma City: Crop conditions simply perfect; no danger whatever.—Williamson, Halsett, Frauer & Co.

Following from Hoyt at Winfield, Kas.: Wheat prospects in territory covered not as good as same time last year; acreage fifteen points less. Mr. Hoyt has so far this season twice covered the territory including northern Oklahoma, central and southwestern Kansas and is again returning.

Chicago—Message from LeCount at Wellington, Kan., says: Crop looks to be in perfect condition, no moisture needed. Weather fine for the plant.

Shoulders Advance, But Geese Go Down a Trifle—Warmer Weather Welcomed by the Farmers

Hogs took another shoot skyward today when they advanced 25 cents per hundred, owing to the shortage of the supply on the market. CHILTON CANNOT BUILD ITS PLANT

MUNICIPAL LIGHTING HEADED OFF BY STATE COMMISSION

IT MUST SEEK ATTY. GENERAL

Ruling is That Condemnation of Commercial Plant Points Only Way to City Plant

MADISON, Wis., April 4.—The state railroad commission has denied the petition of the city of Chilton for authority to erect a municipal lighting plant to compete with the Wisconsin Electric Service company of that city.

The common council of Chilton and the management of the local lighting company have not been in agreement for some time. The company has offered to sell its plant to the city for $20,000, which it claims is $10,000 less than it cost.

The railroad commission advises the council that if it wants to have the franchise of the company forfeited it should apply to the attorney general and get him to bring a proper action for that purpose in the courts. It also suggests that the council negotiate with the bondholders of the company if it can not satisfactorily settle its troubles with the management.

The Oshkosh Savings and Trust company is interested in the company and was a party to the proceedings.

HERO SAVES TWO LIVES

APPLETON, Wis., April 4.—Efforts will be made to secure a Carnegie medal for George Eggleston of Kimberly, whose heroic work saving not only his own, but also the lives of Eleanor Johnson, the 14 year daughter of W. W. Johnson of Kimberly, and Harry Bendt, aged 13 years, also of Kimberly.

The trio were in a rowboat enroute across the Fox river at Kimberly, when Mr. Eggleston lost an oar. The wind was blowing a gale, and the light craft was being carried by the swift current.

As the dam was reached the swirling waters capized the craft, and the trio was dashed into the foaming maelstrom. Eggleston managed to keep both the boy and the girl above water until the upturned boat could be reached. The three were in the water nearly five minutes before the current carried them to the Kimberly floating bridge, where they were rescued.

BODY FOUND ALONG TRACK.

SUPERIOR, Wis., April 4.—Portions of a man's body, apparently that of a lumberman, were found scattered for about two miles along the Omaha railroad tracks this side of Rockmont by Supt. Anton Johnson. The body and clothing were both so cut up that it was impossible to give any good description of the man.

Mr. Johnson was walking along the Omaha tracks when he found a man's leg lying on the tracks. Further along he found other parts of the body. The head was terribly mangled and the clothing was in tatters.

HELEN LEWIS WEDS.

RACINE, Wis., April 4.—(Special.)—Helen Lewis, one of the wealthiest women of Wisconsin, and daughter of William F. Lewis, the millionaire manufacturer, will be married on Monday to George H. Wilson, also a millionaire. Mr. Wilson is reputed to be the owner of rich mines in Nevada. The wedding will be the society event of the year.

LA FOLLETTE CLUB DRIVES LAGGARDS

COMMERCE COMMITTEE WILL REPORT FOR VALUATION

ITS MEMBERS ARE OPPOSED

But Political Fear of Accusing Senator's "Roll Call" Methods Forces Action

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—At its next meeting, under a tentative agreement just reached, the senate committee on commerce will report the La Follette bill to direct the interstate commission to make a scientific physical valuation of all the railroads in the United States.

The committee did not reach this agreement because it is in favor of the legislation, for a comfortable majority of its members are not. It decided in this way because of the threat made by Senator La Follette some time ago, that unless the committee acted on this bill, he would introduce a resolution to discharge the committee and return the bill to the senate.

Would Put Them on Record. That would mean that everybody in the senate would have to go on record as to whether he was for or against preventing the legislation having a fair chance. If he voted against the resolution he could reasonably assume that La Follette would read the roll out in twenty or thirty places in his state during the coming summer and arouse a lot of people to troublesome inquiries. The easy way out seemed to be to report the bill, and this course, it is pretty definitely agreed, the committee will adopt.

BILL MAY BE PASSED.

The chance for passage of this measure will be very fair, once it is out of committee. Few statesmen like the idea of voting against it; especially those from the middle west and west. Out in that country people have got convinced that the valuation wouldn't do any harm and that it might be a good thing. The president has insisted that it ought to be made, and the interstate commerce commission has strongly recommended it. There is small excuse for opposition and La Follette is on hand all the time with the prod. So the bill is coming out and likely to pass. Under the measure about $2,000,000 will probably be set aside for making the valuation and three years given to the work. The interstate commission by letter informed the committee that it favors the bill.

MILWAUKEE REFORM SPELLER

MILWAUKEE, April 4.—(Special.)—Milwaukee is today entertaining the famous reformed spelling man, Prof. Brander Matthews of Columbia university, New York. Prof. Matthews today delivered a lecture at Downer college to a select audience, but not a word was said in defense of Matthews-Rooseveltian orthography. Prof. Matthews is the foremost literary critic of America and he holds the cross of the Legion of Honor of France, a rare distinction. Many leading educators from Wisconsin came here today on invitation to meet him.

MARRIES GIRL HE RESCUED.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., April 4.—A romance which began two years ago at Boyd led to the marriage of Ole A. Enger of Superior and Miss Minnie Saas of Boyd.

Enger first met Miss Saas when he saved her from drowning at Boyd, where he was supervising the construction of a bridge. Miss Saas was boating on the river below the bridge when her craft was overturned by being struck by a falling timber. Enger leaped into the river and rescued her. After the incident they were introduced and the courtship began.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

BARABOO.—Pearl Souder, a well known animal trainer who for ten years had charge of Ringling Brothers' herd of elephants, has been adjudged insane and taken to Mendota for treatment.

NEENAH.—Fears are being entertained for the safety of the Neenah dam, which is being threatened by large cakes of ice carried down in the annual rush from the lake.

FOND DU LAC.—Athenia Templin, who was employed at the Gallant house, was taken into custody after she confessed that she was the mother of the babe which was found in the street Tuesday afternoon.

EAU CLAIRE.—Evangelist Dow of Chicago created a sensation at Bethel Baptist church by his denunciation of theaters, dancing and card playing. Theaters, he said, had their origin in the heinous and evil practices of the ancients, while dancing came from pagan times when the practices were so debauched that they are not recorded in history.

EAU CLAIRE.—Frank Bilderbuch of Red Wing, Minn., aged 24 years, who has just been released from the Green Bay reformatory, where he served two and a half years for burglary, has been arrested in this city charged with the theft of a suit case and clothes.

"Riches, my friend," said the plutocrat, "do not bring happiness." "Maybe not," said the socialist; "but it must be a heap of satisfaction to have a lot of money and be able to talk like that to a chap that hasn't got any."

STOUGHTON IN HOT CAMPAIGN.

STOUGHTON, Wis., April 4.—(Special.)—Stoughton is in the throes of one of the greatest municipal campaigns in its history. The saloon question is the important topic for decision by ballot on next Tuesday, as it is in a number of other cities in Wisconsin. This city has been dry for a number of years, and the election will decide if saloons are again to be licensed. The battle between the two elements is fierce, and prominent speakers for both causes have appeared during the campaign.

Henry Rive has returned from a visit at Winona.

BECKER NOT CERTAIN.

MILWAUKEE, April 4.—(Special.)—Now that election day is near, and it has been intimated that Mayor Sherburne Merrill Becker is to be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor, Milwaukee is expectantly waiting for a formal announcement from the millionaire boy executive. It is predicted that the announcement will be made on April 21, the day he retires from office in Milwaukee. "Gill" Vandercock, his secretary, is now making trips to various parts of the state to sound sentiment, and he reports that the condition of mind of the public is favorable.

ALL athletes know that the element in any contest, upon which success most depends, is endurance; but few realize that endurance is dependent more on a perfectly toned system than on muscle.

The use of Digesto Malt Extract means a perfectly toned system. Digesto is malt in its most highly concentrated form. It is bottled energy.
